WELCOME FROM THE PRESIDENT

If there is one thing these last several years of the pandemic, divisive politics, socioeconomic struggles, and war have taught us as educators, it is our need for connection. Through our work instructing trainees, faculty, colleagues, and patients, we, as academic psychiatrists, have the unique opportunity to encourage interdependence and promote generativity in ourselves and others, vital missions in our human development.

It is with this in mind that the theme for this year's annual meeting is Academic Psychiatry: Discovery and the Next Generation. I am eager to see all of you September 6th-9th in beautiful Vancouver, BC (so happy to be back to Canada!). Our esteemed program chair, Hermioni Amonoo, MD, has a wonderful program and meeting established. We received a record-setting number of abstracts for our workshops, posters, WIPs, media sessions, and educators' showcases—while many workshops will have a special focus on mentoring, leadership, and teaching, there will continue to be an emphasis on inclusion, diversity, and equity. Besides the multiple outstanding workshops, other highlights are our Master Educator Series, the Welcome & Award Presentations on Thursday morning, the electronic poster session, and many networking opportunities, including the Meet, Mingle & MORE event which will kick off Wednesday afternoon. Something I am personally elated about (which nicely complements the theme) is our inaugural formal mentor/mentee pairing, where junior members will be matched with senior members who will join them throughout the meeting to facilitate sharing of expertise, support academic career development, and boost self-reflection, as well as increase engagement in our AAP community in Vancouver and beyond. I am particularly thrilled for our Keynote Address by AAP Emeritus Member Dr. Carol Bernstein, Professor and Vice Chair for Faculty Development and Wellbeing in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Science at Montefiore Medical Center and the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. Dr. Bernstein has an extensive CV, but needless to say, she has taught, coached, and mentored countless individuals, and I am excited to hear her inspiring and interactive conversation on her own experiences with mentoring, titled "Mentoring and Generativity: Go Fast Alone or Go Far With Others." I would be remiss if I did not mention our Night Out, this year in the Eureka Gallery at Science World. We will have plenty of fun, entertaining games, comradery, and special memories to be made, paired with delicious local cuisine, a view of the beautiful sunset, and, of course, karaoke!

As you can clearly see, there will be a lot to explore, discover, learn, and share in Vancouver, coupled with the usual mega-dose of 'AAP goodness!' I sincerely hope you will be able to join us in this voyage together in September. Live long and prosper.

Sean Blitzstein, MD
AAP President 2022-23

Accreditation and Designation Statement

In support of improving patient care, this activity has been planned and implemented by American Psychiatric Association (APA) and Association for Academic Psychiatry. APA is jointly accredited by the American Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

The APA designates this live activity for a maximum of 19 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND THIS MEETING?

The AAP Annual Meeting is designed for psychiatrists, psychiatric residents, fellows, and medical students who are interested in learning about academic development, teaching psychiatry and conducting educational research. Other professionals are welcome to attend and will likely find the meeting relevant if they have significant involvement in teaching, education, and academic career development within psychiatric contexts.
